TM home investor fund Class D (Unbundled Net)

A sub fund of the TM Hearthstone ICVC

This Fund is managed by Thesis Unit Trust Management Limited ISIN (Accumulation): GB00B9608795

Objectives and Investment Policy

The TM home investor fund ("the Fund") is a PAIF (Property Authorised Investment Fund). The investment objective of the Fund is to use cash raised from investors to carry on a Property Investment Business. Property Investment Business includes property rental business, owning shares in UK real estate investment trusts and foreign equivalents. The Fund will invest only in residential property within the United Kingdom. Performance will derive from capital growth with lettings providing an additional income return.

The key investment objective of the the Fund is to operate a let property portfolio across England, Scotland and Wales in a similar manner to existing housing stock. The Fund will be managed in such a way as to minimise management and maintenance costs.

The Fund will aim to identify properties which are in established rental locations within each area that have exhibited above average long-term house price growth. Discounts will be sought on new acquisitions to mitigate transactional costs and provide an element of additional capital growth. Properties will tend to be new or recently constructed at the point they are acquired by the Fund.

A small proportion of the Fund will be held in cash or similar investments in order to obtain appropriate levels of liquidity.

Investors should note that the costs of the TM home investor fund dealing in real property are significantly higher than those normally associated with equities and bonds.

The base currency of the Fund is pounds sterling.

Income arising from the Fund is retained in the case of accumulation shares. Investors can redeem shares daily at 10.30pm.

Risk and Reward Profile

The TM home investor fund has a significant exposure to immovables. As such, the authorised fund manager is not permitted to disclose a synthetic risk and reward indicator for the TM home investor fund. The authorised fund manager has identified the following material risks which are relevant to the TM home investor fund:

- Liquidity risk - investments in immovable property are relatively illiquid and more difficult to realise than most equities or bonds. If an asset cannot be liquidated in a timely manner then it may be harder to attain a reasonable price.
- Valuation risk - immovable property and immovable property-related assets are inherently difficult to value due to the individual nature of each property. As a result, valuations are subject to uncertainty and are a matter of an independent valuer's opinion. There is no assurance that the estimates resulting from the valuation process will reflect the actual sales price even where a sale occurs shortly after the valuation date.
- The investments of the TM home investor fund are subject to normal market movements and other risks involved with investing in property and securities. There can be no assurance that any capital growth will occur. The value of your investment may fall as well as rise.
- If significant numbers of investors want to get their money back at the same time the TM home investor fund may be forced to sell property. This could result in a lower price being obtained than the most recent valuation.
- The performance of a fund invested substantially in property can be negatively affected by a downturn in the property market in terms of both prices and rental income.
- The TM home investor fund invests mainly in one type of asset. It is therefore more vulnerable to the market sentiment for that particular type of asset.
- The investment returns of the Fund and the TM home investor fund may differ.
- The Fund may hold assets that are not always readily saleable without suffering a discount to fair value. The Fund may have to lower the selling price, sell other investments or forego another, more appealing investment opportunity.
- Investment in other funds may mean that the objectives and risk profiles of those underlying funds may not be fully in line with those of the Fund.
- Significant exposure to a particular industrial sector or geographical region reduces the diversification and is at risk of a localised event impacting the Fund.
- The Fund has a concentrated portfolio (holds a limited number of investments) and if one or more of these investments declines or is otherwise affected, it may have a pronounced effect on the Fund's value.
- The price of units/shares and any income from them may fall as well as rise and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. There is no assurance that the investment objective of the Fund will actually be achieved.

All the risks currently identified as being applicable to the Fund are set out in the "Risk Factors" section of the Fund's Prospectus. Investors should also consider the "Risk Factors" section of the TM home investor fund.
