The e.surv House Price Index (previously known as LSL Acadata) is used for the purpose of performance comparisons.

Property Investment Manager's commentary

November saw a continuation of a strong housing market even before the positive news on a potential vaccine for Covid-19. Headline house price growth figures continue to be driven by the premium end of the market – both regionally and in terms of types of properties which benefit most in terms of the current stamp duty holiday. The e.surv house price index records positive annual growth in all regions in England and Wales. The Fund's properties increased in value for the sixth consecutive month: up 0.55% in November, giving a cumulative increase of 1.02% on its properties over the last six months. In total, 41 of the Fund's 204 properties were valued upwards this month, spread across the country from Bristol to Manchester across 12 sites. Most notably, these rises were not limited to houses as would be expected, but the Fund's city-centre Manchester flats also increased by 5% each. The Limes in Nottingham, one of our more-recent acquisitions and largest holdings, also increased in valuation. The Standing Independent Valuer, CBRE, continues to keep a close watch on activity in the housing market and the valuations of the Fund's property portfolio. One specific point to mention is their valuation guidelines stipulate that, when valuing a property, transaction prices of comparable properties are only relevant if contracts have exchanged on those sales, which can sometimes result in the Fund's property portfolio lagging movements in the market.

The Fund once again demonstrated the resilience of the residential sector with rent collection at 99.5% in November, taking the average monthly collection to 97.9% since the start of the Covid-19 crisis, and in significant contrast to the commercial property funds. We are also seeing occupancy in the portfolio hold steady in the upper 90's%, resulting in the highest monetary rent collection since the start of 2019.

This is the Fund's best standalone monthly performance since July 2018, and a robust continuation of Q4 2020. Finally, we recently established a shortlist of developments in the North West, the target for our next acquisition in 2021. Our focus is on 2- and 3-bed houses with gardens and we are now entering the more detailed due diligence phase.
