TM home investor feeder fund is the Authorised Unit Trust Feeder for UK's first Financial Conduct Authority regulated residential Property Authorised Investment Fund (PAIF)

This factsheet is for information only. It is not designed to provide advice on the suitability of an investment for your personal financial situation. If you have any questions regarding the information included in this factsheet, you are recommended to speak to a financial adviser.

Investment Objective

The Fund invests in private rented sector housing across the mainland UK regions and aims to capture UK house price growth plus provide an element of income return. The property investment manager, Hearthstone Asset Management Limited, uses quantitative asset allocation methods and qualitative regional stock selection to build a portfolio of assets reflecting the distribution of UK mainland housing stock. These properties are let under assured shorthold tenancy agreements (AST's) and corporate lets. Investment returns comprise capital growth and rental income.

Property Investment Advisor's commentary

In February the Fund again showed a positive return net of fees. Although the value of the portfolio, as reported by the Standing Independent Valuer was unchanged, net rental income contributed its customary return.

Demonstrating the resilience of demand for good quality modern housing to rent, occupancy of the portfolio was over 97% and rental growth on reviews and new lettings was between 2% and 2.5% compared with the previous year.

Brexit uncertainty has continued to impact the sales market with first time buyers driving the market, and the number of home movers remaining constrained. The estimated number of sales was just under 60,000, still a fair market, but below the level expected for this time of year.

The Housebuilders Federation reported good levels of site visits and reservations from both first-time buyers and home movers, although these were both down marginally against seasonal averages. Reservations from Buy to Let investors fell again.

The LSL Acadata Index showed prices up nationally by 0.5% over the month, although down 0.5% over the previous 12 months with significant regional variations. London and the South East showed modest falls over a three month period, and there were gains in the West and East Midlands, Wales and the North West. The Scottish Index, which is reported separately, and with a delay, showed continuing growth in the market North of the Border, with Edinburgh showing the best annual performance. This reflects the Fund's experience with the Independent Valuer lifting the values of the Edinburgh homes.

The February 2019 RICS UK Residential Survey results continue to signal the market is struggling for momentum, with key indicators on enquiries, sales and new instructions all remaining subdued. In an extra question included this month, aimed at drawing out the most significant force holding back activity at this point in time, 77% of respondents across the UK cited Brexit uncertainty as the biggest challenge facing the housing market at present. A further small reduction in the volume of sales was reported but with a modest increase in the number of rental enquiries.
